Dear [REDACTED]

We represent the Plaintiff in the above-identified case.

Pursuant to a Court-approved subpoena, the Internet Service Provider ("ISP") named above and other ISPs have disclosed subscribers whose Internet accounts have been identified as having been used to download from and/or make available on the Internet unauthorized copies of the above-named motion picture in violation of the U.S. Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. §§ 101 et cetera).

You have been identified as one of those subscribers, in particular as Doe [REDACTED] in Case No. [REDACTED] who has infringed Plaintiff's copyright in the above-named motion picture. The complaint in this case can be viewed online at [REDACTED]. We will formally name you as a defendant in that case if you do not reach a settlement with us by the close of business on [REDACTED].

YOU SHOULD CONSIDER CONSULTING WITH YOUR OWN ATTORNEY IN CONNECTION WITH THIS CASE.

In connection with this case, we will seek, among other things, an award against you for damages of up to $150,000 for willful infringement, and up to $30,000 for non-willful infringement, under the statutory damages provisions of the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. § 504(c)), costs and attorney fees, and a permanent injunction.

Do NOT delete any files relating to the above-identified motion picture from any of your computers unless and until Plaintiff's claim against you is resolved by settlement or otherwise. If you do, in addition to damages, we will seek sanctions against you for spoliation (i.e., destruction or alteration) of evidence.

To settle your infringement now, the settlement fee is $1,200.00. Also, as indicated above, the settlement fee must be received by us, on behalf of Plaintiff, by the close of business on [REDACTED].

Settlement payment in the form of a check or money order should be made payable to "Law Offices of Ira M. Siegel," with Case Management ID: [REDACTED] written on the remittance/advice line of the check or money order.

The payment, along with your signature on the Liability Release Agreement (see attached document) should be sent to this address:

Law Offices of Ira M. Siegel
P.O. Box 570129
Tarzana, CA 91356

With respect to the Liability Release Agreement, read it carefully. You will see that we have accommodated the reasonable interests of a defendant such as yourself. Once the money represented by your check or money order has actually been received in my attorney-client trust account, I will return to you the attached Liability Release Agreement signed by me on behalf of Plaintiff, along with a Settlement Date and Release Security Code. Shortly thereafter, a dismissal of you, identified by your Doe number, IP address and timestamp, from the case will be filed with the Court and sent to you as well.

Juries and courts do take copyright infringement very seriously. As noted above, you should consider consulting with your own attorney in connection with this case. You and/or your attorney may research similar cases relating to unauthorized downloading of media, such as in the music industry.

We look forward to resolving this case with you according to the terms set forth in the Liability Release Agreement. If we do not, then you may formally be brought into the case without further notice.

Sincerely,

Ira M. Siegel
