

The FCC's Main Studio Requirement May Soon Be History

Legal Alert
June 27, 2017

On May 18, 2017, the Federal Communications Commission announced its plan to eliminate the “main studio” rule. The proposed repeal would end a 78-year old rule requiring radio and television stations to (1) maintain a main studio within or near their communities of license and (2) have at least two full-time employees – one management and one staff – present at the studio during normal business hours.

Read the full update.

Related Services

Election and Political Law,
Public Policy & Lobbying