

Mio Asami

(she/her)

Associate

1111 Third Avenue
Suite 3000
Seattle, WA 98101

T 206.447.2897
mio.asami@foster.com

With a focus on transactional business law and intellectual property law, Mio helps clients with navigating the entire business life cycle.

Mio represents closely held entities and emerging growth companies with entity selection, formation, equity and debt financing transactions, acquisitions and, if appropriate, the transfer or sale of the business. In addition, Mio advises on capital raising transactions, working closely with companies looking for capital as well as venture capital and private equity funds. Mio often serves as outside general counsel to clients in support of operations, capital raising, corporate governance, commercial transactions, contract drafting and negotiation, intellectual property and general business matters.

Her practice also focuses on advising on risk management and business development functions for cannabis-industry clients in high-risk niche verticals, including the sale of hemp-based and CBD-infused products.

Mio was born in Los Angeles and raised in Seattle, and regularly shared time between the United States and Japan. Bilingual and bicultural, Mio loves to incorporate her diverse background in finding the best solutions for clients.

Education

J.D., Seattle University School of Law, 2018

Services

Business & Corporate Finance
Beauty & Wellness
Cannabis
Commercial & IP
Transactions
Emerging Companies
Food & Beverage
Mergers & Acquisitions
Consumer Brands
Fashion & Apparel
Luxury Law

Admissions

Washington, 2022
California, 2019

B.A., Western Washington University, Psychology, Minor in Sociology, 2013

Honors & Recognition

IAE Global Award for Business Law, 2022

Top 200 Global Cannabis Attorney, published in the Cannabis Law Journal, 2021-2022 & 2020-2021