Happy New Year (belated)! The new year means new opportunities, and in the Hospitality industry that means it's events time! The calendar of upcoming events is varied, but here are a couple that I plan to attend:

ALIS (America's Lodging Investment Summit): I will be attending this San Diego event, January 24 through 26. According to the website, ALIS is the "leading and largest hotel investment conference in the world, attracting more than 7,000 delegates from around the globe over the past three years." If you plan to attend, and you'd like to get together, please email me.

2011 Hospitality Law Conference: Held at the Omni Houston Hotel in Houston, Texas, this event covers the latest trends and issues in hospitality law. This year, I'll be speaking at the conference on the topic of distribution. I would love to meet up with you in Houston; just send me an email and let's get together.

Of course, I'll be providing updates and a thorough follow up after each conference. If there is a topic to be covered at either of these events that you'd like particularly to hear about, please let me know and I'll do my best to cover it.
