

How Do We Move Forward? An Update on the New Amendments to the Transportation Planning Rule

Seminar

June 6, 2012 | 4:00 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Garvey Schubert Barer, Portland, OR

Please join us at 4:00 p.m. on June 6, 2012, for an in-depth discussion about the new changes to the Transportation Planning Rule (TPR). The TPR is a complex set of regulations that has a tremendous impact on the feasibility of the project both as to design and cost. We will analyze the history of the rule and the genesis that led to the current changes and what it means for the future of development.

What does the TPR require?

What happened to make the TPR so complicated?

What are the new changes to the TPR?

How will the new TPR be implemented?

Bring your own questions too. We look forward to a lively discussion!

Join us for a short class and a reception – the perfect opportunity to mingle with other like-minded individuals passionate about land use planning in Oregon. Should you be unable to attend in person, participation by phone is available. Please indicate when making reservations.

See you June 6th!
