

It Ain't Easy Being Green: Standards and Strategies for Responding to Climate Change

Seminar

November 9, 2011 | 4:00 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Garvey Schubert Barer, Portland, OR

Please join us at 4:00 p.m. on November 9, 2011 for an in-depth discussion on addressing climate change in Oregon. We will lead a conversation about planning for the impacts of climate change. Some of the topics we'll cover include approaches to reducing vehicle miles travelled, accommodating changing demographics and adapting to rising tides. We will start the conversation with these questions:

What challenges does climate change pose for land use planning?

What are Metro's strategies in planning for climate change?

What tools are available to planners to tackle climate change in policy making and in application review?

Bring your own questions too. We look forward to a lively discussion!

Join us for a short class and a reception – the perfect opportunity to mingle with other like-minded individuals passionate about land use planning in Oregon. Should you be unable to attend in person, participation by telephone is available. Please indicate when making reservations.

AICP .75 Law-credit CM pending approval.

RSVP

By November 4, 2011

Register:

To register, please click on the below Register button:

Location

Garvey Schubert Barer
Bank of America Financial Center
121 SW Morrison Street
11th Floor
Portland, OR 97204-3141

It Ain't Easy Being Green: Standards and Strategies for Responding to Climate Change

Parking

Complimentary parking. Please bring your ticket to be validated at the event.

View directions.

Questions

For questions, please e-mail Lauren Feeney.