

“Dean's Student Circle - Leadership Presentation,” Portland State University, School of Business Administration

Speaking Engagement
January 19, 2018
Portland, OR

Larry J. Brant will lead a discussion with the Dean's Student Circle at Portland State University, a hand-selected group of undergraduate students from the School of Business, about leadership in the legal community and profession.

About the Dean's Student Circle:

The Dean's Student Circle is a small hand-selected group of PSU students that meets regularly to network and be mentored. Each month, the Dean meets with these business students over lunch. Alumni and members from the business community are invited to speak and the Dean facilitates the discussion. Students have the opportunity to hear from these professionals in an informal setting and ask questions as well as share their own experiences. The intention is for students to develop leadership skills and build a professional network with fellow members and speakers. Visit the PSU website for more information.
