

"Is It Real Property, or Is It Personal Property? Who Cares? You Do!" 42nd Annual IPT Conference - Changing Times - Changing Taxes

Speaking engagement
June 25, 2018
Vancouver, BC
Event Sponsor: Institute for Professionals in Taxation

Related Services

Property Tax
State & Local Tax
Tax

The need to distinguish between real property and personal property is an age-old challenge that comes up in many contexts, both tax and non-tax. Property tax professionals might be tempted to say it does not really matter. That would be a mistake – a mistake that could cause you to leave money on the table. This session will explain why you should care about the distinction between real property and personal property and how to make that distinction.

For more information and to register, visit IPT's website.