

"The Next Generation and the Future of Business Litigation", 2024 American Bar Association Conference

Panel Discussion
February 1, 2024
Louisville, KY

Justice Brooks is a featured panelist at the "The Next Generation and the Future of Business Litigation," a conference organized by the American Bar Association in Louisville, Kentucky. He will be part of a panel that delves into issues raised by current Artificial Intelligence technology, explores foreseeable challenges in the next phase of technological development, and engages in a robust debate on whether we are heading toward a utopia of legal equity where justice is just a swipe away.
