

"Dealing with the Unexpected," The CIO Summit

Panel discussion
September 6, 2018
Seattle, WA
Event Sponsor: Hospitality Upgrade Magazine

Contact

Greg Duff

Even the best, most thought out plans are subject to drastic change following the occurrence of an unexpected event. You may have been advised "to plan for the unexpected" while negotiating that critical vendor contract, but how often do you really need to enforce that no-assignment provision?

Greg will lead from personal experience an interactive discussion about the fallout from several forms of unexpected events, including vendor or supplier meltdowns and the passage of widespread legislation or regulation.

For more information and to register, visit Hospitality Upgrade's website.