

“Protecting Your Design,” Leadership, Mentoring, Networking, Opportunity for A&D Professionals (LMNOP)

Panel Discussion
April 2018

Copyrights and trademarks are topics typically associated with the media and entertainment industries; however, the architecture and design community has interests in intellectual property as well as ownership and transfer of rights relating to design. Yao Bailey will participate on an LMNOP panel that will discuss what architects and designers need to know about copyrights, trademarks and patents.

The panel will cover:

The ownership and use of architect’s drawings, specifications and other documents

How do I protect my design in the contract with the client

What are the risks if my design is not protected?

21st Century concerns

Related Services

Construction

Real Estate, Land Use &
Environmental

For more information, visit the LMNOP website.