

Christine Brown and Edward Harley Featured in Chambers High Net Worth 2023

Firm News July 20, 2023 Foster Garvey Newsroom

Foster Garvey is proud to announce that the firm and two of its attorneys have again been named in the prestigious Chambers High Net Worth (Chambers HNW) guide for 2023, recognizing excellence as a top advisor to high-net-worth individuals and organizations.

This year, Christine Brown (Portland) and Edward Harley (Seattle) were featured among the Chambers HNW individual rankings for their stellar representation of clients in the areas of Private Wealth Law and Yachts & Superyachts, respectively.

- Christine Brown (Private Wealth Law, Oregon Band 2) advises trust companies, high-net-worth families and business owners on estate planning, charitable matters, and trusts. She is highlighted in the guide for her extensive work in the succession planning arena, with one market commentator noting that Christine has "a very good clientele" and is "well thought of in that area."
- Edward Harley (Yachts & Superyachts, Global-wide Band 1), who moved up one tier into the top band of his category, has a broad transactional practice that includes yacht matters relating to the construction, purchase and sale of vessels. One client stated that "it is always a very pragmatic and positive experience working with him," also noting that Edward "works collaboratively and is a good lawyer and dealmaker."

Additionally, Foster Garvey was recognized as a leading law firm for the global private wealth market in the Yachts & Superyachts category (Global-wide – Band 3), with one client describing Foster Garvey as their "go-to firm in the Seattle area for yacht-
