One year ago, on October 1, 2019, the well-respected legacy firms of Foster Pepper PLLC and Garvey Schubert Barer, PC, announced a merger of equals to form Foster Garvey PC, combining decades of collective strength and best-in-class legal services for clients.

While few could have anticipated the challenges our world would face during this first year as a new firm, we are pleased to have exceeded expectations. This would not have been possible without our clients and the hard work of our attorneys and staff.

We are truly grateful to everyone for upholding their commitment to our firm in the face of difficult circumstances. The dedication and hard work by many inside and outside our organization over the last 12 months have laid a solid foundation for Foster Garvey's future for many more successful years to come.

With nearly 170 years of combined history in the Pacific Northwest, Foster Garvey remains deeply committed to its clients and communities, serving several of the most influential and innovative companies and governments in the country. We look forward to continuing to serve our clients in key practice areas and industries, and helping to shape the region for the next century.
