Foster Garvey Newsroom

Foster Garvey is pleased to announce the arrival of Tommy Sandstrom as an Associate in its Municipal, Health & Housing practice in Seattle. His addition further deepens the group's nationally recognized bond counsel team and marks the third attorney hire for the Municipal, Health & Housing practice in the last five months.

Tommy has experience on a broad range of public finance transactions. He has served as bond counsel, disclosure counsel and underwriter's counsel on numerous public and privately placed tax-exempt and taxable debt financings for multifamily affordable housing developments, water and electric utilities, solid waste disposal facilities, charter schools, and higher education institutions.

"Tommy brings talent and know-how that will enhance our group's capabilities as we continue to provide top-notch service to our municipal clients," said Lee Marchisio, leader of Foster Garvey's Municipal, Health & Housing group. "He joins us at an exciting time during which our practice has seen steady growth and as we solidify our position as one of the strongest public finance teams in the Pacific Northwest."

Prior to joining the firm, Tommy was an associate at the global law firm Orrick, where he was a member of its Public Finance group in Seattle.

Tommy obtained his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center and was the Managing Editor of its tax law journal, The Tax Lawyer, published in conjunction with the American Bar Association. During law school, he completed an internship with
