Jason Ayres has been elected to serve as General Counsel to the Risk Management Association (RMA) Portland Metro Chapter and named a member of its board.

In his role as General Counsel, Jason will oversee RMA Portland Metro Chapter's legal affairs in support of its mission of advancing the use of sound risk principles in the financial services industry. He joins a board that comprises other leading professionals across banking, finance, accounting and law.

Jason's practice focuses on helping financial institutions and small businesses obtain optimal resolutions in commercial insolvencies, bankruptcy proceedings and business disputes. He frequently advises clients in complex Chapter 11 and Chapter 12 bankruptcy proceedings as well as receiverships and workouts. Jason has significant experience in matters involving agricultural lending, equipment leasing and financing.

About the RMA

Founded in 1914, RMA is a not-for-profit, member-driven professional association; its mission is to advance the use of sound risk principles in the financial services industry. RMA promotes an enterprise approach to risk management that focuses on credit risk, market risk and operational risk. RMA is headquartered in Philadelphia, PA, and has approximately 2,500 institutional members, including banks of all sizes as well as nonbank financial institutions. The RMA Portland Metro Chapter is organized and run by volunteer members. Read more on the RMA website.
