

Noah Williams Appointed Chair of Washington State Bar Association's CLE Committee

Firm News
October 2, 2023
Foster Garvey Newsroom

Related Services

Artificial Intelligence
Labor, Employment &
Immigration

Noah Williams, Of Counsel in Foster Garvey's Labor, Employment & Immigration practice in Seattle, has been elected to serve as Chair of the Washington State Bar Association (WSBA) CLE Committee. Noah is excited for this opportunity to serve in this leadership role as legal education has been a focus of his volunteer activities with the WSBA.

In addition to leading the CLE Committee in pursuing its set objectives, Noah's responsibilities as Chair will include facilitating meeting discussions, establishing processes for new member orientation and engaging in succession planning initiatives. His appointment is a one-year term effective October 1, 2023, and ending on September 30, 2024.

The WSBA CLE Committee provides policy guidance for the WSBA CLE Department to help fulfill its mission of serving the ongoing education needs of Washington lawyers, which includes delivering high quality programming via live in-person, webcast, and webinar formats, as well as on-demand seminars.