Law360

Earlier this year, Foster Garvey announced the election of Rafael Stone to serve as the firm's co-chair. Law360 recently mentioned Stone's new role as part of its quarterly promotion coverage. As co-chair, Stone has been focused on the firm's long-term strategic growth. Stone also currently co-chairs Foster Garvey's Investment Management practice group and advises over 30 public pension funds located throughout the United States.
