

Podcast Series: De-Bunking Common Myths of Broadcast Transactions

Audio Feature

November 10, 2017

Radio & Television Business Report

In this new podcast series published on Radio & Television Business Report, Erwin Krasnow and Doug Ferber (CEO and CCO of DEFcom Advisors LLC) dispel the myths and misconceptions about broadcast station transactions. The podcast aims to separate the fiction from reality to educate buyers and sellers in these transactions and recognize that the generalizations that many have preached over the years may not be accurate.

This podcast is based on a 2016 series of Radio & Television Business Report articles written by Erwin Krasnow, Doug Ferber and Bishop Cheen (Analyst/Consultant with SNL Kagan).

Listen to each segment using the links below.

Murphy's Laws Are Not Applicable and the Greater Fool Theory - November 10, 2017

Avoid Intermediaries When Possible - November 3, 2017

Banking on a 100% Leveraged Purchase - October 27, 2017

Real Estate: Gaining Lots of Value - October 20, 2017

A Station's Culture Is "Perishable" - October 16, 2017

Broadcast Cash Flow is Easy to Calculate - October 6, 2017

Cash Flow Multiples: "The Perfect Yardstick" - October 3, 2017

Comparable Sales Stats - September 21, 2017

It's Not Negotiable - September 15, 2017

It's Just a Letter of Intent \(Podcast Intro\) - September 11, 2017