Event Sponsor: New Jersey State Bar Association Annual Meeting

Raymond M. Brown will be a participant at this year's New Jersey State Bar Association Annual Meeting and moderate "Justice at Stake," a frank discussion about threats facing the NJ Judiciary and the impact on both legal practices and clients as part of a special Judicial Independence Track.

Mr. Brown is a Litigation partner and chair of the firm's White Collar Defense & Corporate and International Human Rights Compliance Practice Group. A high profile white collar criminal defense attorney with an international legal practice, Mr. Brown is also a leading figure in a developing area of the law related to the regulation and enforcement of business requirements for human rights compliance. He is host of the Emmy Award winning New Jersey Network Program "Due Process," a Visiting Professor and Research Scholar at Seton Hall University School of Law, and the recipient of numerous legal industry accolades. He has also authored a variety of articles on a range of legal topics including human rights due diligence and corporate responsibility issues.
