

Successfully Navigating Divorce Settlements Involving Closely Held Businesses: An Essential Guide to Achieving the Best Result

Doubletree by Hilton, Fairfield
December 4, 2019

Event Sponsor: New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education

The Hon. Michael R. Casale (Ret.), Of Counsel in the firm's Family Law Department, will be a speaker at a seminar on "Successfully Navigating Divorce Settlements Involving Closely Held Businesses: An Essential Guide to Achieving the Best Result," to be presented by the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education on Wednesday, December 4, 2019 from 9:00am – 12:30pm at the Doubletree by Hilton in Fairfield.

When a closely held business is involved in a divorce, it adds another layer of complexity to the proceedings. The company is often a significant income source for a couple or a family, and its division will have a major impact on the divorce settlement and the parties' financial lives for years to come.

This seminar will provide concrete and proven tactics to handle these complicated situations. Topics to be addressed include:

- Ascertaining ownership of the business and spousal contributions
- Running the business while the divorce is pending
- Valuation – asset v. liability method: market value method
- Working with an expert
- Alimony, the business income stream and "double dipping"
- Negotiating a settlement
- Selling a business pursuant to a divorce
- Issues concerning professional practices
- Buy-sell agreements
