The agenda for this presentation will include the following topics:

- What a change order does and doesn't do
- Alternatives to change orders
- Constructive change orders and their effects
- When to request or write a change order
- Writing change orders
- Making change orders effective
- Resolving disputes about changes

Mr. Nudelman is Chair of the firm's Construction Contracting & Risk Management Practice Group and a partner in the Litigation and Real Estate Departments. He concentrates his practice in construction law. For over 25 years he has represented members of the construction industry across a broad spectrum of matters. On the transactional side, Mr. Nudelman works with owners and developers, construction managers, general contractors, subcontractors and design professionals to prepare and negotiate contract documents for construction in the New Jersey and New York metropolitan area. He has wide-ranging experience in construction litigation, representing clients in state and federal courts throughout the New Jersey/New York metropolitan area, as well as in local and international mediations and arbitrations.

Ms. DelVecchio is an associate in the Real Estate & Redevelopment & Land Use Departments, where she assists in the firm's representation of clients in transactions involving commercial and residential properties,
