

Corporate Department Leads Firm's Representation of Automotive Industry Client

January 21, 2014

The firm's Corporate Department recently represented a New Jersey-based client that purchases and sells original equipment parts, replacement parts and cores for automobiles both within the United States and internationally, in its multi-million dollar acquisition by a public corporation with offices in the United States and abroad.

Corporate Department Partner Hal W. Mandel and Associate Senwan H. Akhtar handled the transaction, which involved complex corporate, tax, financing, real estate, insurance, environmental and employment issues. Anthony Giountikos (Counsel) and Martin E. Dollinger (Partner) in the firm's Real Estate Department provided assistance with the real estate aspects of the transaction, and David A. Roth (Partner) in the firm's Environmental Department provided assistance with the environmental aspects of the transaction. Thomas C. Senter, Chair of the firm's Employee Benefits Practice Group, provided assistance with issues involving pension and retirement funds.

The client has multiple offices throughout the country and abroad, has processed millions of recovered automotive repair components annually, and has extensive product lines for domestic and imported automobiles. The firm has provided legal services to the client for over 15 years.
