

Greenbaum Partner Steven Nudelman Serves as Presiding Judge at International Mock Trial (IMT) Tournament Finals

December 20, 2024

Greenbaum partner Steven Nudelman will serve as the Presiding Judge for the finals of the virtual International Mock Trial (IMT) tournament scheduled for Friday, December 20 and Saturday, December 21, 2024. The tournament has 40 teams of 8th through 12th graders, from various regions throughout the United States, Canada, China and Hong Kong. Over 100 judges have participated in the tournament, ranging from practicing attorneys to alumni and participants in American Mock Trial Association competitions. The primary purpose of IMT, which is in its third year of existence, is educational, since they charge no fees and their competitions are conducted over Zoom Videoconference.

Mr. Nudelman, a partner in the firm's Litigation and Real Estate Departments, concentrates his practice in construction law. For over 25 years he has represented members of the construction industry across a broad spectrum of matters. On the transactional side, Mr. Nudelman works with owners and developers, construction managers, general contractors, subcontractors, and design professionals to prepare and negotiate contract documents for construction in the New Jersey and New York metropolitan area. This work helps his clients manage the risk inherent in construction projects so they may adequately protect their interests now to avoid claims in the future. When disputes are unavoidable, however, Mr. Nudelman draws upon his wide-ranging experience in construction litigation, representing clients in state and federal courts throughout the New Jersey/New York metropolitan area, as well as in local and international mediations and arbitrations. He has defended and asserted claims on behalf of owners, developers, condominium associations, general contractors, design professionals, subcontractors, vendors and sureties involved in public and private construction projects.
