

Christine F. Li Named Chair of Community Association Practice Group

September 14, 2015

Greenbaum, Rowe, Smith & Davis LLP is pleased to announce that Christine F. Li has been named Chair of the firm's Community Association Practice Group. Ms. Li succeeds longstanding Group Chair Wendell A. Smith in assuming this new role.

"Our firm is privileged to have had Wendell Smith at the helm of our community association practice for so many years," she comments. "I welcome this challenge and have nothing but confidence in the strength and expertise of the attorneys and other professionals at our firm who practice in this area. We look forward to Wendell remaining a vital force in our practice and the community association industry."

The firm's Community Association law practice is widely acknowledged as a pioneer and present day leader in this complex and highly specialized area of the law. Members of our Community Association Practice Group have represented hundreds of condominiums, cooperatives and homeowners associations throughout New Jersey for over four decades. The firm has historically been at the forefront of developments that affect community associations in the state, keeping our clients promptly informed of legislative initiatives and new developments that impact common interest communities and their governance.

Ms. Li is a partner in the firm's Real Estate Department. Her work on behalf of community association clients includes general counseling, collections, and alternative dispute resolution. She also chairs the firm's Planned Real Estate Practice Group, representing numerous top-tier national and regional developers in all aspects of planned real estate development.
