

GRS&D Women's Leadership Forum Announces Series of Upcoming Programs Addressing Professional Development

September 14, 2017

The Greenbaum, Rowe, Smith & Davis Women's Leadership Forum (WLF) is pleased to announce its latest slate of programs, which are scheduled for presentation from fall 2017 through spring 2018. The programs will focus on four key professional development topics: business writing skills, career coaching, public speaking and networking.

On Tuesday, October 24, 2017, the WLF will host guest speaker Pamela Brownstein. Her presentation on "Clear Writing: The ABCs of a Critical Business Skill" will explore common writing challenges and provide practical advice to make business writing more powerful and engaging. Pamela is President of Jaffe Brownstein Strategies and is the former Executive Editor of the New Jersey Law Journal. Additional information and registration details can be found at <http://bit.ly/2f9GP8H>.

Upcoming programs in the series are as follows, with additional details to be announced shortly:

Wednesday, January 17, 2018

"A Fearless New Year: Hacking the Fear of Public Speaking"

Speaker: Eduardo Placer, Founder & CEO of Fearless Communicators

Tuesday, March 6, 2018

"Rescript Your Career Story: Balancing Your 'Want To Do' List with Your 'Have to Do' List"

Speaker: Dr. Colleen Georges, LPC, NCP

Wednesday, April 18, 2018

"The Art of Connecting People"

Speaker: Jessica Levin, MBA, CMP, CAE, DES, President of Seven Degrees Communications, LLC

The Greenbaum Women's Leadership Forum was founded in 2008 to empower women to reach their full potential by encouraging them to lead in their chosen life path. The WLF's mission is to support professional growth and the attainment of personal goals for all women, both at the firm and throughout New Jersey's business community at large. Current members of the WLF Steering Committee are: Jessica A. Flynn, Nancy Isaacson, Emily A. Kaller and Jemi Goulian Lucey.