

DOING BUSINESS ON THE WEB: TAXES, SECURITY BREACHES & CYBER TROUBLES

Seminar

New York, NY
January 23, 2014
Event Sponsor: Hodgson Russ

January 23, 2014
New York, NY

The Offices of Hodgson Russ
1540 Broadway, 24th Floor
New York, New York
8:30 - 10:15 a.m.

Registration and breakfast at 8 a.m.

In this program, experienced attorneys will address some of the hottest legal topics faced by businesses today, focusing on the requirements for protecting sensitive information and what needs to be done if sensitive information is accessed, disclosed, or used without authorization. The related issue of how a business can manage the risk of unauthorized access, disclosure, or use of sensitive information will also be addressed. Finally, speakers will discuss the multistate tax consequences for an e-commerce business, including how state "Amazon legislation" will affect online sales.

Topics:

- Update on privacy issues
- Responding to an information security breach
- Claims businesses face (e.g., governmental investigations, civil suits) and the insurance available to manage the risks these claims can pose
- The multistate tax requirements and consequences for an e-commerce business

Attorneys

Mark Klein
Gary Schober

Practices & Industries

Cybersecurity & Privacy
State & Local Tax