On June 24, 2011, Governor Cuomo signed Chapter 97 of the Laws of 2011, a tax levy limitation law that establishes a real property tax cap for school districts in New York State (other than the “big five” city districts) in relation to budget adoption. Since the law applies to the budget process for the 2012-13 school year and will remain in effect at least through June 15, 2016, districts must begin planning for these changes.

Our Education Law Practice has completed an assessment of the operation and implementation of the tax levy law, including several open issues to be discussed on August 29.

Who should attend: Superintendents, assistant superintendents, board members, and business officials
