The Tumultuous Trade Environment: How Companies are Riding the Trade Roller Coaster

The renegotiation of NAFTA, imposition of tariffs on newsprint (and subsequent elimination) and first round of U.S. steel and aluminum tariffs (which turned into retaliatory duties on everything from blue jeans to chocolate) all point to one unmistakable conclusion: the times we live in are turbulent – at least when it comes to trade. Either directly or through the supply chain, it seems as if no one is immune from these actions, which are yielding both challenges and opportunities in the marketplace. How are companies making day-to-day decisions? How are they planning for the future? Join us for an insightful panel discussion from experts in the trenches of the tumultuous trade environment, in the pre-game for WTCBN's World Trade Celebration 2018.

The discussion will take place from 3:30 - 4:30 p.m. at the Wurlitzer facility in North Tonawanda, NY (908 Niagara Falls Blvd, North Tonawanda, NY 14120).
