On June 13, 2019, New York State eliminated the religious exemption for immunizations. Many of you have been working throughout this summer managing this change in the law. This session is designed to ensure that you are prepared for the upcoming school year and have a plan to work with parents for compliance with this law.

Topics to be discussed:

- What are the cut-off dates for parents to provide the district with proof of immunization?
- How do you handle students with disabilities and requests for services under Education Law 3602-c?
- What are the requirements for a medical exemption?
- What are the practical implications of this change in the law?

Speakers: Andrew Freedman and Lindsay Menasco

Who should attend: Board of Education Members, Superintendents, Business Officials and School District Administrators
