About the Event

Our speakers will provide latest information about compliance with state residency rules, which many have learned about the hard way. With good intentions, they did all the things they thought they needed to do in order to take up residency outside of their old state: they filed affidavits of domicile in the new state, registered their automobiles, obtained new driver's licenses, and registered to vote.

2020 FLORIDA RESIDENCY SEMINAR SERIES

Unfortunately, most people aren't aware that a residency determination is based on more than mere declarations or physical presence in the state. In a residency case, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer. Even after you've moved out of one state, if you maintain living quarters in that state and visit from time to time, you may still be considered a resident of that state for tax purposes.

Are you thinking about moving to a new state? Have you already moved but retain significant connections with your prior state? If so, you may be a prime target for an audit. As the best offense is a good defense, this seminar may be right for you.

While primary emphasis will be on New York State's approach to a residency issues, the concepts to be discussed are applicable throughout the United States.

This seminar will provide you with information that may help you protect your assets and avoid pitfalls when moving out of a state or maintaining dual residences:

- How to Establish Residency in Florida for Tax Purposes
- New Residency and Nonresident Allocation Issues
- The Residency Audit Process
- Proactive Preparation for Nonresident Audits
- How a Florida Move will Impact Your Estate
- Florida Homestead Rules
- Protecting Your Assets and Trying to Reduce Tax on Transfers to Your Family

This seminar will also provide information on residency law for:

- Individuals With Dual Residences
- Non-Florida Residents
- In-House Tax Counsel
- Accountants and Tax Managers
- Financial Planners
- High-Net-Worth Individuals

All seminars are complimentary. Space is limited. Facilities are wheelchair accessible.

and Saratoga Springs, New York; and Toronto, Ontario. We have a team of attorneys and paralegals dedicated to handling residency cases. In addition to tax matters, nearly 200 attorneys focus their practice on corporate, mergers and acquisitions, securities, intellectual property, real estate, litigation, and most other areas of U.S. law.

Speakers

Paul A. Baldwin, Jr. is a Florida board-certified wills, trusts, and estates lawyer based in our Palm Beach office with over 30 years of experience counseling high-net-worth individuals on estate planning, probate, trust administration, and estate and gift taxes. He served as senior vice president and wealth planner at Citi Private Bank in West Palm Beach, which was preceded by a position as a senior vice president and senior financial planner at Wells Fargo Private Bank in Ft. Lauderdale. Paul is admitted in Florida (1983).

Paul R. Comeau is based in our Palm Beach and New York City offices, concentrating his practice in State and Federal tax planning, business-planning law, and business acquisitions law. He is co-editor of New York Tax Service, co-editor of New York Tax Cases, and co-chair of the New York State Tax Committee of the New York State Bar Association Tax Section. He co-authored CCH's New York Residency and Allocation Audit Handbook and is the co-author of NYSBA's Contesting New York Tax Assessments. Paul is admitted in Florida (1975) and New York (1974).

Joseph N. Endres counsels clients on a wide range of state and local taxation issues and represents taxpayers in disputes with the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance as well as the New York City Department of Finance. Joe's practice focuses on personal income tax and residency matters, sales and use tax issues in the technology industry (software as a service, cloud computing, digital products, etc.), tax-based incentive programs and abandoned property issues for businesses. Joe is admitted in New York (2006) and New Jersey (2019).

Daniel Kelly focuses on state and local tax matters, and regularly advises individuals and businesses on different aspects of New York State and New York City personal income tax, sales and use tax, corporate franchise tax and several other lesser-known taxes. While focused on tax matters, Dan often counsels clients on a wide variety of legal matters, teaming up with his colleagues in different disciplines to deliver creative, pragmatic and efficient solutions. Dan is admitted in New York (2013) and Florida (2013).

Mark S. Klein has extensive federal, multistate, state, and local tax experience and is chair of the State and Local Taxation Section of the ACE Accounting Society. Mark is editor of New York Tax Highlights; contributing editor of CCH's Guidebook to New York Taxes, and co-authored CCH's New York Residency and Allocation Audit Handbook, CCH's New York Sales and Use Tax Answer Book and NYSBA's Contesting New York Tax Assessments. Mark is the Chairman of the Firm. He is admitted in New York (1983), Florida (1983), and before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Timothy P. Noonan is the Firm's New York State Residency Practice leader. He has handled numerous residency cases in New York over the past decade. Tim co-authored the CCH's New York Residency and Allocation Audit Handbook, and is often quoted by media outlets, including the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, and Forbes, on residency and other state tax issues. He is the author of "Noonan's Notes," a regular column in Tax Analysts' State Tax Notes. Tim is admitted in New York
