The possibility of being sued in a U.S. court can seem scary (and expensive), particularly to companies located in Europe. The news is filled with stories of lengthy legal battles and large judgments, but there are ways to minimize your exposure to lawsuits in U.S. courts. Please join Hodgson Russ LLP and the Bóné Law Firm for an introduction to U.S. litigation and a discussion about ways to limit your company's liability in U.S. contracts.

Speakers:

Melissa Subjeck (Hodgson Russ LLP)
László Bóné (Bóné Law Firm)

Who should attend: European businesses considering U.S. expansion, European entrepreneurs considering U.S. sales, and individuals seeking a better understanding of U.S. contract law.
