

I WORK THEREFORE I AM: THE DEVELOPING DEFINITION OF AN EMPLOYEE IN CANADA AND AROUND THE WORLD

Webinars

November 10, 2020
12pm - 1:15pm

November 10, 2020

This panel will review the evolving debate over what constitutes “employment” and who qualifies as an employee in the context of increasing technology, the gig economy and a global pandemic. Developments in Canada and around the world will be discussed, along with their lessons for employers in structuring and monitoring relationships with employees and service providers now and into the future.

Chair: Lisa Talbot, Torys LLP
