The New York State Economic Development Council will hold its 2022 Fall IDA Academy on November 10 in Utica, NY. Hodgson Russ Attorney Christopher Canada will speak on Project Financing 101. One of the most important aspects of industrial development agencies' work is to evaluate the financial viability of a project. Christopher, along with representatives from IDAs across the state, will discuss about how to construct a deal, what additional tools are available at the state level to help make the math work, and how to determine whether a pro forma is viable or not.
