John Lopinski Ph.D.

June 24, 2009
Buffalo, NY

At this annual event, Hodgson Russ attorney John D. Lopinski served as a panelist for a roundtable discussion titled "Protecting Intellectual Property Rights in the Global Market." His portion of the discussion, "Patents and Borders: Where Should I Go and How Can I Get There?," addressed numerous patent-related issues critical for success in cross-border business.

This event was designed to strengthen the international business capabilities of the bi-national region stretching across Buffalo, Rochester, and Syracuse, New York, and Ontario, Canada
