

HODGSON RUSS NAMED TO AMERICAN LAWYER'S AM LAW 200 LIST!

June 28, 2011

Hodgson Russ has been named to the prestigious Am Law 200, an annual list in American Lawyer magazine of the country's largest law firms. The list that includes Hodgson Russ is in the publication's June 2011 issue.

A feature article about the firm appears next to the list. In the article, "New to the List: Hodgson Russ," author Ross Todd says, "Hodgson Russ debuts as the first and only Buffalo-based firm on the Second Hundred [list] this year."

Discussing the firm's history, Todd says, "The purchase and subsequent $20 million renovation of the [Guaranty] building marked a significant investment in downtown Buffalo and western New York, the city and region Hodgson Russ has called home since its founding in 1817."

It is a distinct honor to be included on this esteemed list of our country's most prominent firms, and our inclusion is due to the support and commitment of our clients and to the hard work of our attorneys and staff.
