

THE MORNING RISK REPORT: SONY DEBACLE STARTS NEW AGE OF CYBER RISK

Wall Street Journal
December 19, 2014

Practices & Industries

Cybersecurity & Privacy

Hodgson Russ attorney Alba Alessandro is quoted in “The Morning Risk Report: Sony Debacle Starts New Age of Cyber Risk,” published December 19, 2014, by the Wall Street Journal. The article discusses the new and costly precedent the Sony Pictures Entertainment hacking scandal may have set.

In the article, Alba says that the incident “empowers hackers to influence business decisions at publicly traded corporations. And that’s very dangerous territory.”

Individuals with online subscriptions to the Wall Street Journal can read the full article here.