

HODGSON RUSS PRESENTS SUMMER TAX SERIES, SESSIONS COVER THE MOST IMPORTANT STATE TAX ISSUES OF 2017

Press Release
May 8, 2017

Hodgson Russ LLP, one of the country's preeminent law firms providing business-focused legal counsel to market-leading and emerging enterprises, governmental entities, nonprofit institutions, and individuals across the United States, Canada, and the world presents its Summer Tax Series in New York City, from June 7 to August 2, 2017 at the Harvard Club. The sessions are designed for financial professionals such as CPAs, CEOs, CFOs, COOs, corporate counsel, and tax and financial advisors.

"For the last 20 years, the State Tax Group at Hodgson Russ has presented these seminars to help legal, financial, and accounting professionals stay ahead of the curve by outlining changes in both the state and federal tax area," said partner and New York State Residency practice leader, Timothy Noonan. "And we strive not only to bring our attendees up-to-date on new tax developments, but also to provide practical advice and commentary from our experienced lawyers, many of whom are on the front lines of the most important tax issues facing taxpayers today," he added.

Each session runs from 8:30 to 10:15 a.m. and includes complimentary refreshments. All participants will receive two hours of CPE credit per seminar. The cost is $55 each or $350 for all seven sessions which are as follows:

June 7: New York State and City Tax Update

June 14: Personal Income Tax Update.

June 21: Market Sourcing 101

June 28: What Do I Do Now? President Trump's Tax Proposals: Estate Planning In Uncertain Times and Certain Recent Federal Income Tax Developments

July 12: The Nuts and Bolts of a Sales Tax Audit

July 19: What You Need to Know Regarding Oddball Taxes

August 2: Hot Topics in Accountant Liability
