Buffalo, New York (January 1st, 2018) — The law firm of Hodgson Russ LLP is pleased to announce the following attorneys have been elected to the firm's partnership, effective January 1, 2018.

They are:

Michael J. Hecker- Mike has a broad-based environmental and energy-related practice, and has assisted regional, national, and international clients with their various environmental needs, including on a wide range of remediation-based projects, assisting clients with regulatory and criminal enforcement actions, permitting matters, transaction matters, and environmental risk counseling.

Charles W. Malcomb- Chuck concentrates his practice on environmental law, energy law, land-use law, municipal law, and real estate development. He works with both private and public clients on compliance with state and federal environmental requirements, permitting processes for development projects, environmental impact review, and environmental and land-use litigation.

Ryan M. Murphy- Ryan concentrates his practice in the area of employee benefits, with particular focus on qualified retirement plans and nonqualified deferred compensation plans. His practice includes drafting and reviewing plan documents, assisting clients in the administration of benefit plans, reviewing services agreements with plan service providers, preparing submissions under IRS and U.S. Department of Labor correction programs, and advising clients on reporting and disclosure obligations.

Emina Poricanin- Emina counsels public and private sector employers in all aspects of labor and employment law. She represents employers in arbitration proceedings and before the State Division of Human Rights, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and federal and state courts, and has worked on cases before the National Labor Relations Board, the Public Employment Relations Board, and federal and state Departments of Labor. Emina also leads the firm's Home Care Practice.
