

JANE BELLO BURKE ELECTED TO OFFICER POSITIONS IN NYSBA HEALTH LAW SECTION AND HOUSE OF DELEGATES SECTIONS CAUCUS

Press Release
February 4, 2019

Attorneys

Jane Bello Burke

The law firm of Hodgson Russ LLP is pleased to announce that Jane Bello Burke has been elected as an officer of the New York State Bar Association's Health Law Section. Her term as Secretary of the Health Law Section will commence in June 2019.

Jane also serves as the Health Law Section's delegate to the House of Delegates, NYSBA's decision and policy-making body. At the 2019 annual meeting, Jane was elected as an officer of the Sections Caucus to the House of Delegates. Her term in that position will commence in June 2019.

Jane represents hospitals, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, home care agencies, social services agencies, and other practitioners and providers navigate the complex network of federal and state laws and regulations that govern New York's health care system. She also advises health care providers on legal aspects of innovative business arrangements, including the implementation of telehealth programs. Jane works primarily from the firm's Albany and New York offices as a partner in the Health, Home Care Administrative & Regulatory, Business Litigation, Blockchain & Cryptocurrency and Cybersecurity & Privacy Practice Groups.

Hodgson Russ attorneys facilitate the U.S. legal aspects of transactions around the world. The Firm practices in several significant areas of law and uses multidisciplinary work teams to serve the specific, often complex, needs of clients, which include public and privately held businesses, governmental entities, nonprofit institutions, and individuals. Hodgson Russ has offices in Albany, Buffalo, Saratoga Springs and New York City, New York. Our Florida office is located in Palm Beach. The Firm also maintains an office in Toronto, Ontario. To learn more about Hodgson Russ, please visit the Firm's website, www.hodgsonruss.com.

