Rachel Clark joined Laner Muchin in 2024. She concentrates her practice on advising public and private employers in compliance matters involving state and federal employment laws, including the Family Medical Leave Act, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Illinois Human Rights Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Illinois Wage Payment and Collection Act. Rachel also represents employers in labor law matters, including grievance processing, labor arbitrations, collective bargaining and employee discipline, as well as proceedings before the NLRB and public sector labor boards.

In addition, she has extensive experience providing education and training on labor and employment topics such as terminations, disciplinary issues, leaves of absence, wage and hour issues, organizing efforts and credentialing compliance.

Prior to joining the firm, Rachel served for 16 years as Associate General Counsel for the largest educators' union in Illinois, where she provided a wide range of services and advice related to labor, employment and education matters.
