

Diversity & Inclusion

At Moss & Barnett, we are committed to creating an organization that reflects the increasing diversity of the Twin Cities and Greater Minnesota. Our commitment is rooted in the belief that it takes a team of talented professionals from diverse backgrounds to create the creative strategies and insights our clients need to succeed in a changing world.

For years, our firm has turned its commitment to diversity into action. We were early members of Twin Cities Diversity in Practice (TCDIP), an organization that recruits candidates of diverse backgrounds around the country to join the Twin Cities legal community.

We are particularly focused on the professional development and advancement of women, and, in 1999, we elected a woman to serve as our president, a notable milestone among the area's law firms. We are also longtime supporters of Minnesota Women Lawyers (MWL), an organization that shares our dedication to promoting women throughout the legal profession.

As we look to the future, we believe that our commitment to diversity is also a commitment to change with our community. We will continue to actively find new ways to promote the recruitment and professional growth of women and diverse professionals in our firm. We will also continue recruiting a team of top, diverse talent – because the better we reflect our community, the stronger we will become.
