The Collaborative Community Law Initiative (CCLI) is creating a legal incubator in Saint Paul, Minnesota, that will provide essential mentoring, education, and training to entrepreneurial and innovative new lawyers interested in community service. Modeled after successful programs around the country, CCLI will train and mentor recent graduates of Mitchell Hamline School of Law to develop sustainable low bono, community-based, and culturally-sensitive solo and small practices serving those who face barriers to accessing legal services.

Moss & Barnett attorney, Brittney M. Miller, serves on the Development Board of CCLI. Contact Brittney to learn more.
