

Financial Planning for Later in Life (Cindy Ackerman Quoted)

10.01.2016

Moss & Barnett attorney, Cindy Ackerman, was quoted in the Minnesota Monthly article, "Financial Planning for Later in Life," which was part of the magazine's "Wise Women: Financial Savvy for Every Life Stage" section (written by Madison Bloomquist and published October 2016). Excerpts from that article appear below.

At least let your family know you have a plan

Some people aren't comfortable with hard conversations, but it's best to at least tell your heirs there is a will and give them the contact information for your lawyer," says Cindy Ackerman, a lawyer with Moss & Barnett and member of Minnesota Women Lawyers. Be sure to also let your power of attorney and health care directive know they were named so they know what to expect in case of an emergency. Even minimal information can ease stress in an emergency.

Attorneys

Cindy J. Ackerman

Practice Areas

Estate Planning and Wealth Preservation

