Overview

Before he was a lawyer, Sean worked as a general laborer for a commercial construction company and then as an office administrator for a local immigration attorney. Sean's varied background allows him to connect with people from all walks of life. His clients feel comfortable working with him knowing that he will take the time to really listen to their concerns.

As a member of the firm's General Liability Service Group, Sean represents clients in civil litigation, including premises liability and personal injury claims, as well as construction accidents. His clients work in various industries, including construction and insurance.
