

Know the Salient Points of Recent Marijuana Laws and Effectively Advise Your Clients

National Business Institute, Seminar; Northbrook, IL
December 16, 2019 | 9:00 AM - 4:30 PM

Mike McGrory joins four other speakers to present at the National Business Institute's "Recreational Marijuana Business Law in Illinois" seminar to answer employers questions and uncertainties on how to advise new businesses in the cannabis industry.

Notable topics include:

- Understand how the federal government can use forfeiture laws to close cannabis-related businesses
- Evaluate the current banking landscape and determine whether a cannabis business can obtain financing
- Ensure cannabis business clients have business policies and procedures in place that help them avoid legal scrutiny
- Confidently advise clients on all aspects of the marijuana business licensing process
- Gain practical legal tips on cannabis product packaging, labeling and testing
- Insight on the valuation of a cannabis business
- Recognize the state and federal tax implications for cannabis-related businesses
- Analyze the ethical implications of advising cannabis business clients
