April 19, 2024

In December 2022, the Indiana Supreme Court's Commission on Equity and Access submitted their final report regarding how to enhance public trust and confidence in Indiana's courts. The report summarized 12 months of work and provided recommendations from 8 different working groups. Join this Open Conversations program, hosted by Retired Justice David and Angka Hinshaw, where attorneys Deborah Daniels and Nick Huang will share their experiences participating in these working groups, from what their work looked like to the trends they identified across the state.
