

Defended an Industrial Chemicals Manufacturer and Sales Representative in a Suit Brought by a Former Employer

Amundsen Davis defended an industrial chemicals manufacturer and sales representative in a suit brought by the sales representative's former employer, a competing industrial chemicals manufacturer. The suit was seeking preliminary injunctive relief and asserting claims for breach of restrictive covenants, trade secret misappropriation, and tortious interference with employment agreement. Jeff Glass obtained a favorable settlement on the eve of the preliminary injunction hearing.
