

Obtained Summary Judgment on Behalf of an Insurance Carrier in a Declaratory Judgment Action

Amundsen Davis obtained summary judgment on behalf of an insurance carrier in a declaratory judgment action in which the insured-claimant asserted that the insurance carrier waived its right to set-off amounts previously paid to the claimant as medical expenses after the carrier sought to set-off those amounts from a large arbitration award entered on behalf of the claimant. Amundsen Davis was able to obtain the ruling after only five months in litigation.
