

Represented a National Janitorial Service Provider in a Personal Injury Suit Involving Water Infiltration at a Suburban Office Building

Amundsen Davis represented a national janitorial service provider in a personal injury suit involving water infiltration at a suburban office building. We argued that the client had no notice of the infiltration, did not create or exacerbate the condition and did not owe a duty to the plaintiff, who became injured while working on a weekend. Summary Judgment was granted in the client's favor.
