

Served as Appellate Counsel for a Financial Institution

Debra Mastrian served as appellate counsel for a financial institution, serving as personal representative of an estate. She successfully defended judgment obtained by the client against heir for loans made to the heir from the decedent and award of pre-judgment and post-judgment interest in contentious case among decedent's family members. The case involved issues regarding subject matter jurisdiction, probate court's authority, and personal representative's statutory authority.

PROFESSIONALS

Debra A. Mastrian
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Banking & Finance